

13th International Conference

Religion and Politics Conflict and Peace

Siena, 20th- 22nd September 2018

Presidio San Niccolò, via Roma, 56

Giovedì 20 settembre

ore 16

Welcome addresses

ore 16,30, Opening Lecture

Francesca Sbardella, Università di Bologna

Gendered peace: gender policies and conflicts within Catholic Church norms, institutions and practices

ore 17,00, Panel 1

Marion Bowman, The Open University, Walton Hall, Milton Keynes

Pilgrimage and Politics in Scotland

Dirk Johannsen, University of Oslo

Re-storied landscapes: Saint Olav, Cultural Heritage, and the Authenticity of Nature

Ane Ohrvik, University of Oslo

St. Olav's wells as heritage

Venerdì 21 settembre

ore 9, Panel 2

Peter Jan Margry, Meertens Institute, KNAW / University of Amsterdam

Battling atheism: the Virgin Mary as ideological weapon in the Cold War

Maria Santa Montez, independent researcher

Fatima as a scenario for Political and Religious conflicts

Fabio Mugnaini, Università di Siena

One faith, one face: the racialization of religious minorities in 1938 Italy

ore 10,30, Panel 3

Leonard Norman Primiano, Cabrini University

The Art of Social Justice: The Contemporary Retablos of Alfredo Vilchis

Lorenzo D'Orsi, Stockholm University

Temporary street shrine for imagining a different world: the march for Hrant Dink

ore 14,30, Panel 4

Ágnes Hesz, University College Cork

Studying Vernacular Religion Through Secret Police Files. Cases from Hungary and Romania

James A. Kapaló, University College Cork

Archangels in the Archives: Religious Minorities and Photography in the Secret Police Archives in Eastern Europe

Kinga Povedák, University College Cork

Finding Religion in the Secret Police Archives

ore 16,00, Panel 5

Markéta Holubová, Academy of Sciences of the Czech Republic, Prague

Religion and politics in the Czech Republic in the 20th century and at the start of the 21st century

Tobias Koellner, Witten/Herdecke University

On 'Entangled Authorities': The Interplay between Orthodox Religion and Politics in Contemporary Russia

István Povedák, Moholy-Nagy University of Arts and Design, Budapest/ Hungarian Academy of Sciences-University of Szeged

"Should I stay or should I go?" Religious and Political identities in 'illiberal' Hungary

ore 17,30, Panel 6

Alessandro Testa, University of Vienna / Comenius University of Bratislava

Religious and Identity Conflicts, Parody, Blasphemy, Nationalism(s), and Other Mixed Up Things in a Central-Catalonian Public Ritual

Monika Golonka-Czajkowska, IEiAK UJ

Between the Cross and the Flag. Political and religious celebrations of the so-called Smolensk Catastrophe in Poland

Anna Niedźwiedz, Jagiellonian University in Kraków

National politics, urban heritage and global Catholicism: The 2016 World Youth Day in Kraków

ore 18,45

Ethnology of Religion Working Group Meeting

Sabato 22 settembre

ore 9, Panel 7

Thorsten Wettich, Georg August University Goettingen

War on Sacred Sites: Consequences of the assault of the "Islamic State" on the Yezidis

Clara Saraiva, Center for Research in Anthropology, Lisbon

Inclusion/exclusion in Portugal: religious equality or discrimination?

ore 10,15, Panel 8

Galina Scolnic, University of Windsor

How a New Religious Movement Secularized Soviet Union

Viola Teisenhoffer, LabEx HASTEC / GSRL, Paris

Politics in ritual: an ethnographic approach of contemporary pagan renewal in Hungary

Johan Strijdom, University of South Africa

Comparing Cases of Violence: Assessing Chidester's Analysis of Violence and Religion in Jonestown and Apartheid South Africa

ore 11,45

Roundtable

Studying religion in times of political struggle.

Updating methods and theories without adapting?

Tavola rotonda ed interventi liberi (Open roundtable) coordinated by István Povedák

Scientific Board: István Povedák, Peter Jan Margry, Fabio Mugnaini, Anna Niedźwiedz, Clara Saraiva, Thorsten Wettich.

Email address: ethnorelsiena@unisi.it

Organizing Secretariat: Servizio Supporto Eventi Culturali e Convegnistici unieventi@unisi.it, with the collaboration of Centro Europe Direct, Università di Siena.